Building a world where everyone's included

13

Sports make us more

Let's be real — people are unfamiliar with people with disabilities. They don't know them. They don't get them. And with almost 1 in 5 now disabled, a revolution is decades overdue. We believe sports have the power to change the world, pushing people further and bringing people closer. Through adaptive sports, we show what people with disabilities are capable of so that it's no longer a surprise, so that they're not always an inspiration. We fuel candid conversations and incite the action it takes to build a world where everyone's included.

15

Why Inclusion Matters

16

Which of these facts is true?

☐ 1 in 4 American adults (61 million people) have a disability that impacts major life activities.

☐ 1 in 5 children ages 12-17 have special healthcare needs.

☐ Youth obesity rates are 40% higher in youth with disabilities.

16

Why Inclusion Matters (Continued)

17

- Benefits of sport and physical activity: individuals with disabilities often have a greater risk of acquiring a preventable secondary condition such as obesity, mental health issues, and injury among others
- Despite this, there is a large gap in opportunity; barriers are
 - Awareness
 - Equipment
 - Transportation
 - Systems (Ableism)
 - COMMUNICATION
- Inclusive sport can be a great tool to break the stigma associated with disabilities and remove the barriers to conversations and interactions among groups of people who might otherwise be separated
