Data

- Approx. 19% of undergraduate college students report having a disability (Includes: LD, ADD, Mobility, Psychiatric and Health Conditions) Source: U.S. Department of Education, National Center for Education Statistics. (2019). Digest of Education Statistics, 2017 (2018-070).
- Most disability support offices are seeing the highest increase in requests for accommodations for students with mental health conditions

FACTS

College Accommodations and the Law

16

Laws

IDEA: Individuals with Disabilities Education Act

- Governs special ed services and support for students with disabilities, K-12
- Does not apply to private schools

504: Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973

- Students cannot be discriminated against because of a disability
- Private schools, K-12, college

ADA: Americans with Disabilities Act

- Provides for “reasonable accommodations” in the college and employment settings

FERPA: Federal Educational Rights and Privacy Act

- Protects the privacy of a student’s education record

Accommodations

HIGH SCHOOL	COLLEGE
Student is identified by the school and is supported by parents and teachers	Student must self-identify to the Office of Disability Services
Primary responsibility for arranging accommodations belongs to the school	Primary responsibility for self-advocacy and arranging accommodations belongs to the student
Teachers approach you if they believe you need assistance	Professors are usually open and helpful, but most expect you to initiate contact if you need assistance

Health Conditions and the ADA

The ADA defines a person with a disability as a person who has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities

Chronic Health Conditions: Crohn's disease, diabetes, autoimmune disorders, cancer, migraine disorders, arthritis, etc.

Mental Health Conditions: Bipolar, Anxiety, Schizophrenia

Key Question: How does this condition impact the student?

Accommodation Considerations: Mental Health Conditions

Academic

Extra time, laptop in class/notetaker, flexible attendance, reduced course load

Residential

Single room, fewer roommates, room location

Dining

Allergen free, special diet

Accommodation Considerations: Chronic Health

Academic

Extra time, laptop in class, notetaker, flexible attendance, reduced course load, ability to stand/sit, breaks, priority registration

Residential

Single room, lower floor, room location, private bathroom

Dining

Allergen free, special diet, assistance

Transportation

Accessible transportation

The Student's Role

22

The Student's Role: Expectations

- Applying for accommodations
- Self advocacy
- Self awareness and knowledge
- Understanding college expectations
- Independence required

College Search

- Colleges provide varying levels of support and accommodations
- Individual colleges have their own process for requesting accommodations

Students can:

- Connect with the DSO prior to applying/committing
- Research what supports are available (look at counseling center, student health, health education)
- Identify the services that are offered: tutoring, writing center, academic support
- Identify their own medical needs and considerations when looking at colleges

Issues and Considerations

- Transfer of healthcare
- Medication management
- Mental health services on campus
- Preparation for communicating with administrators/professors

Students can:

- Connect with student health center and counseling center
- Investigate insurance
- Research healthcare providers in the area
- Work on self-advocacy skills prior to college

Self Advocacy

26

Self Advocacy and Students

- Seeking accommodations is the student's responsibility
- The student is supposed to inform disability service office, provide documentation, and ask for accommodations that might help
- Once accommodations are in place, the student is then responsible for notifying instructors and making a plan to implement any accommodations
- Instructors are supposed to treat disability information as confidential and it is up to the student what information to disclose
- Student is also responsible for advocating if something goes wrong

Self Advocacy Fatigue

- This means that students have a lot of extra work to do on top of everything else college involves
- If the resources don't exist at your college, it can feel like you're trying to reach out for help when nothing's there
- Sometimes not only are you advocating for yourself, but encountering a hostile campus climate as well
- This can lead to fatigue and burnout, which can make college harder to handle
- Strategies: build community, find allies, pick your battles, be upfront about the amount of work something takes
